- e) Serology
- f) Histopathology & Cytopathology

Description of Activity

The educational visit has its own importance in the career of a student who is pursuing a professional degree. It is considered a part of the college curriculum. The main objective of a Lab/Hospital visit is to provide students an insight into the practical applications of what they are learning in theory because; theoretical knowledge is not enough for making a good professional career. With an aim to go beyond academics, this hospital visit provides students with a practical perspective. It provides students with an opportunity to learn practically through interaction and working methods.

In the Hematology section students observed venous blood collection, different vacutainers & registration of patients, containers & labelling were very well explained. & also Various automated machines were observed in the Biochemistry & Hematology section.

In the Blood Bank, all about Blood donor records, Bleeding chairs, Different types of Refrigerators, Apheresis Machines and different procedures of the Blood Bank were explained.

The students showed their interest and actively participated in the visit. The visit was very explanatory & definitely, this will help them in their near future.

laboratory visit It helps to bridge the gap between the classroom and the real field world. Students will be able to identify the prospective area of work like Testing, R&D, etc.

Benefit to Volunteers (students):

All the basic information was covered in the workshop related to documentation, proper labelling and processing of samples and further analysis using manual, semi automated or fully automated machines. students were educated about the need for following correct protocol and correct interpretation of the data generated by the trainers, technicians of the labs. It was an enriching experience for the students.
