Highlight: The NSS unit of our college has organised Traffic Management at Powai Plaza Signal & Sakinaka Metro Station Signal with Mumbai Traffic Police. The volunteers played a vital role in assisting with traffic flow, guiding pedestrians, and ensuring adherence to traffic rules. Their enthusiastic involvement helped raise public awareness about safe commuting practices and the importance of following traffic signals. They helped facilitate smoother operations during peak hours, minimizing congestion and ensuring that pedestrians could navigate the area safely. The collaboration also provided the volunteers with invaluable real-world experience in community service and public safety, fostering a sense of civic responsibility. Feedback from both the police and the community highlighted the positive impact of this initiative, which not only improved traffic conditions but also strengthened the bond between students and local authorities. This partnership exemplifies how community engagement can enhance urban safety and mobility, showcasing the importance of collaboration in addressing traffic challenges and promoting a culture of safety in busy urban environments.
