Report & Glimpses

Orientation Session for Experiential Learning.

The primary objectives of the session were as follows: allowing teachers to participate in real-world tasks that mirror classroom scenarios.

Highlights: Experiential learning emphasizes hands-on engagement. Reflection helps educators derive meaningful insights, enhancing teaching strategies and student outcomes. Collaboration with peers enriches learning, while personalized approaches adapt to different teaching styles. Methods include workshops, peer observations, case studies, and fieldwork. Challenges like time constraints and resource limitations can be mitigated through microlearning and digital tools. Gradual implementation fosters acceptance. Ultimately, experiential learning empowers teachers with practical skills, innovation, and deeper student connections.

- More such sessions
- Very innovative
- I prefer to have more such sessions specially which is interactive and practical oriented rather than just ppt and just discussion on a topic continuously
- More sessions like this
- Integrating activities with subject
