FIELD VISIT REPORT

LOHAGAD FORT, LONAVALA

On October 1st, 2024 we visited Lohagad fort near Lonavala. This trip was part of our studies to learn about history and nature. Lohagad fort is located on a hill about 3,400 feet high, and it's a great place for both trekking and exploring the past.

Lohagad fort has an interesting history. It was built during the Satavahana period and later came under the Control of Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj, who used it as treasury in 1670.

The fort is surrounded by thick Stone walls and many gates. These gates have old Carvings and designs." Tryambak Tank" is a small water reservoir located inside Lohagad fort.

It is an old Stone Structure that was used to store water for the people living at the fort. The tank is Surrounded by Stone walls and is Still filled with water, even during the monsoon season. The tank is an important feature of the fort, as it shows how people in ancient times managed water supply at high elevations

Inside Lohagad fort, there is a small, ancient temple dedicated to lord Shiva. The temple is not very large but is a peaceful place where visitors Stop to pray or rest during their trek. It has traditional Stone Carvings and a basic structure that reflects the Style of the past.

The trek to the fort. Started from a village at the base of the hill. The path was not too hard, but it did have Steep parts, Stone Steps and rocks to climb. The greenery around was beautiful. It took us 1.5 to 2 hours to reach the top.

On our way up. we Saw different plants, monkeys and birds. It was interesting to see how the fort was built on the hill, making it easy to defend and see around.

The visit to Lohagad fort was not just a fun trek but also a chance to learn more about history. The fort's importance, its beautiful views, and its architecture made the trip Special. The most amazing part was seeing how the fort blended So well with nature. This trip was a great mix of adventure and learning, and we will always remember it!
